SUBJECT: OUTSTANDING EXAMPLE OF US-INDONESIA LAW ENFORCEMENT COOPERATION

11. (SBU) On October 23, 2008, Haji Juma Khan arrived at the Soekarno-Hatta International Airport in Jakarta, Indonesia aboard Emirates Airways Flight EK 356. Khan, one of Afghanistan's most notorious heroin traffickers, is a fugitive tribal leader in Afghanistan and a U.S. Department of Justice narcotics fugitive. Upon Khan's arrival, Indonesian police and immigration authorities denied him entry based upon an active Interpol red notice for heroin trafficking and material support of terrorist organizations. These charges resulted from an investigation by DEA's bilateral investigations unit based in Chantilly, Virginia, with assistance by DEA Singapore country office.

12. (SBU) Because of the Indonesian National Police's effective response, Khan immediately faced justice. After attempting to enter Indonesia at 4 p.m., he was detained and then expelled from Indonesia approximately five (5) hours later at 9 p.m. Due to outstanding cooperation by the Indonesian National Police, Khan appeared in the Southern District of New York at approximately 4 p.m. on October 24, 12008. Khan was remanded into custody for violations of Title 21 U.S.C. Section 960a and 963.
